How I hate this bleeding Island
And new I hate it more
For a clear week and a few odd hours Section. The weather was perfect It's done nothing else but pour for the big match and the wicket

Yes terday it rained in bucketfulls for a pool of water here and there and blast me, this morning if I didn't awake to the weird croaking of frogs.

To the weird croaking of frogs.

To the bowling of the Sigs

The dire tale of the downpour last night
In our memories will ever abide
The Sergeants, at two, awoke in a fright
And thought they'd been caught in the tide

Shorty then rushed, the S.M. to wake

And the shout went up "Show a light"

But Horrie's first thought as the scene he surveyed

Was where the hell is my pipe.

They dived and splashed and paddled And searched all over the place And when they eventually found it It was drooping from our Horrie's face

In bathing suits we firstly arrayed while they decided what action to take

Then armed with picks and soup spoons

We made a direct attack on the lake

Morrie went out to reconnoitre
To:plan the drain's course so he said
His firs t great find was a B.... big hole
when he fell into it over his head

The gun park suffered accordingly
The machine gun pit looked like a moat
When deciding the best way to rescue the gun wally said "What about Banksie's boat?"

The this episode has its funny sde
On one thing I'll bet a crown
When skies are watery you'll not hear the cry
"Hughie, send her down".

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Has Sgt Westwood received his Boys - pleas e excuse mistakes. beer yet?

The match of the week took place between R.H.Q. and Signal Section. The weather was perfect for the big match and the wicket was in first-class order except for a pool of water here and there on the cutfield after the heavy weather earlier in the week.

R.H.Q won the toss and elected

R.H.Q won the toss and elected to bat. The bowling of the Sigs seemed to be too good for the opening batsman of R.H.Q. but once again the old tail wagged along well. Best scores being Big Smithy 13, The Canteen Keeper 12 and Q.M. Smithy 11.

Sigs then started off well but the tail didn't stand up to the strain quite so well. Top scores being Royfee 20, Williams 12, Douglas 13 and Parry 16.

When the last man came in Gee caught and bowled him for a duck and according to the telegraph R.H.Q. had wen by one run but on the re-count Scorer Temlins found that both scores totalled the same as he had forgetten to count a no-ball by Gatley. So the game ended in a tie, both sides scoring 80 runs.
