

This map, which was drawn to show allied progress in the Pacific to May of this year, should be referred to when reading the article on Singapore on the pages following.