

"C" BLOCK COMMENTS.

We learn from the recently returned Harvesters that the South Island is a great place. Judging from the despondent looks on some of their faces the Timaru girls must have been very appealing. After listening intently to some of their experiences, Lorry says that would have been the place for him. We wonder why?

"Reveille"-----

Dick: Eh, Griff, do you want a -----?

Griff: Yeh, I'll have a couple. -----

Imagine Alex Siffleet calling a group of men the "forty thieves." That is pretty rich coming from any Q.M., isn't it?

We suggest that those "Bathroom Baritones" in C. Block showers should call in and put their voices to good use. Singing Club on Tuesday nights.

Anyone wanting to know the definition of a "Key-man" should ask S/Sgt. Jim Russell.

"Shadow Campbell," Hut 1, reckons Camp is a good place to come to for occasional meals.

Wanted Urgently:

One Kit bag to be left outside ration store daily. Sgt. Harry Hughes says that a garbage tin becomes very hard to sit on for more than an hour.

It is with regret that this Block says farewell to Q.M. Cap. Daldy. He has been a popular OC with his staff, and we join them in wishing him every success in his future occupation.

Latest Exaggeration:

S/Sgt. Bill Williamson doing some work.

Conscience:

Sgt. Eric Carley spending his Part Annual leave working in D Block Orderly Room.

DECEPTION.

"Sarj", have you a good course on "How to win at Poker?" I have been asked this question more than once, but the climax came recently. "Sarj, you lay the odds on the quiet, don't you?" When I explained that I dealt only in safe sure & certain books, that I do not believe in the uncertainty of slow horses, I received the following satisfying reply: "Well you know Sarj, you are so like a bookmaker I used to"
